

January 2017

news and information

MEETING AT A GLANCE:

Treasures report and current membership are available through Cassie M.

Seattle KC Meet the Breed:

Coleen will get an email out to members and then also post on Facebook for volunteers. If non members offer to help we will require a member also assist during that time.

Specialty:

Sequim is the favored location for the 2017 specialty. They have agreed we can tag on for the two days of shows as well as our BBQ.

Jenny is going to see what happens on Feb 9th with the Sammamish club before we start the process of going to Sequim.

Coleen will have to advise the judges if we pull out of Sammamish.

Cassie is looking at some great options for trophies.

New Topics:

The board talked about reviving the newsletter and or going to Facebook. Jenny will reach out to a few members to see if they can help pull information from the shows and other events to help feed the newsletter. We will continue to work both at this time. We also will be reaching out to find a new webmaster to help us do a complete overhaul of the website.

News from Around the Region

January is a big kick off month in Washington and Oregon with 9 shows in 10 days, including shows in Puyallup for 4 days, then down to Portland for the 5 day Rose City Classic. Too many shows to report on all of them here, but will report on the SBTCA Supported Entry in Portland on Wednesday, January 18th and the SBTCA Regional Specialty on Saturday. Huge thank you to Marci Day and Danielle Carpenter for co-chairing the Specialty and they had a team of volunteers helping with the trophies, auction and raffle tables. So many people attended from all over, including Massachusetts, California, several from Canada, Oregon, Washington and maybe more that I missed.
